

'I like doing teamwork. When the discussion gets argumentative it is good because we can express our own ideas and hear people's opinions but we can also hear other people's points of view and create new ideas.'